"Young writers often suppose that style is a garnish for the meat of prose, a sauce by which a dull dish is made palatable. Style has no such separate entity; it is nondetachable, unfilterable. The beginner should approach style warily, realizing that it is himself he is approaching, no other; and he should begin by turning resolutely away from all devices that are popularly believed to indicate style--all mannerisms, tricks, adornments. The approach to style is by way of plainness, simplicity, orderliness, sincerity."

--Strunk y White, "Los elementos del estilo"

"And thus an American textbook, typical required reading for 10th-grade English students, unknowingly extols some virtues of WabiSabi"

--scummings

This is how notes are displayed, note that you can read a note as normal text or as a Wiki page making wiki markup being interpreted.
